Student and Teacher Achievements

- Club - Our Junior Achievement team won the National Championship! After having won the Western CT JA Business Competition in March at Sacred Heart University (first place for the fifth year in a row), our team was invited to the National Competition. Our team of Mikey Bourque, Ye Yint Tun, Nathan Roberts, and Samantha Keane went on to WIN the National Competition yesterday. The first round of the contest involved 8 pools of 6 teams from around country. The first place team in each pool went on to compete in an 8 team championship round. The contest was conducted via computer in 10 to 12 four minute rounds where teams had to run their company against the other teams companies by choosing price, a marketing and R&D budget, production levels, and capital investment levels.

Congrats to these talented and hard-working Ludlowe business students and to their super advisor, Tom Reindel.

- Drama – Our Drama Club packed the house in three performances with their delightful production of our spring musical, PIPPIN. Within a short time Miss K. transformed our FLHS high school kids into dazzling performers that simply hypnotized us with their “magic”. It was a night to remember for all of us. Thank you Miss K and students.
- Falcon of the Month –Students recognized for April's core value Success are: Sophie Bates, Samantha Egan, Leah Farrington, Luka Holderied, Hudson Houghton, Brendan Mulroy, Haley Neely, Jack Owens, Jonathan Porrizzo, Molly Reynolds, Allison Schwarz, William Shostak, Taylor Soyland, Samuel Sweeney, Emma Torello. Staff recognized are: Lauren Marchello, Carol Samuelson, and Cait Schiavo.
- CAS Art Awards – Each year, the Connecticut Association of Schools grants the prestigious Arts Award. Blaze Carter and Samuel Koeck were recognized from FLHS this year and were honored with their families at a banquet held at the Aqua Turf Club in Plantsville, Connecticut on April 3. Also joining them for this celebration were Mr. Albano from music, Mrs. Schiavo from language arts and Headmaster Hatzis. Let's congratulate Blaze and Samuel who are both well-deserving, as they both exhibited the traits of commitment, opportunity, niche, and success from our mission statement.
