

Rainilocks and the Three Tigers

by KS

Once upon a time there were three tigers living in a house in the rainforest. One day they were eating some meat for breakfast. It was too hot. So they went for a run. It was so hot in the rainforest they wanted to find a waterfall to get cool water from.

Roslyn

At the same time, a young girl called Rainilocks liked the rainforest, so she decided to look for some friends. She found her friend the toucan in a tree.

"Where is that delicious smell coming from Mr. Toucan?" Rainilocks said.
Mr. Toucan said, "The delicious smell is coming from the three tigers' house."

"Is it the house in front of me Mr. Toucan?" said Rainilocks.

Toucan said, "Yes, but watch out for the tigers!"

"Are you serious?" said Rainilocks. Mr. Toucan replied loudly, "YEEESSS!!"

Rainilocks was really hungry and the food smelled so good that she decided to knock on the door. KNOCK, KNOCK! No one answered, so she tried the doorknob. The door was locked, so she went in through the open window.

BONK! She landed on her head. When she got up, she went to the freezer to get an icepack. She put the icepack on her head.

Then she turned her head and she smiled because she saw three bowls of meat. She couldn't help herself, she had to eat them. She was so hungry.

So Rainilocks tried the blue bowl of meat. It was too hot, so she tried to cool it off with her icepack. She tasted it but it got too cold.

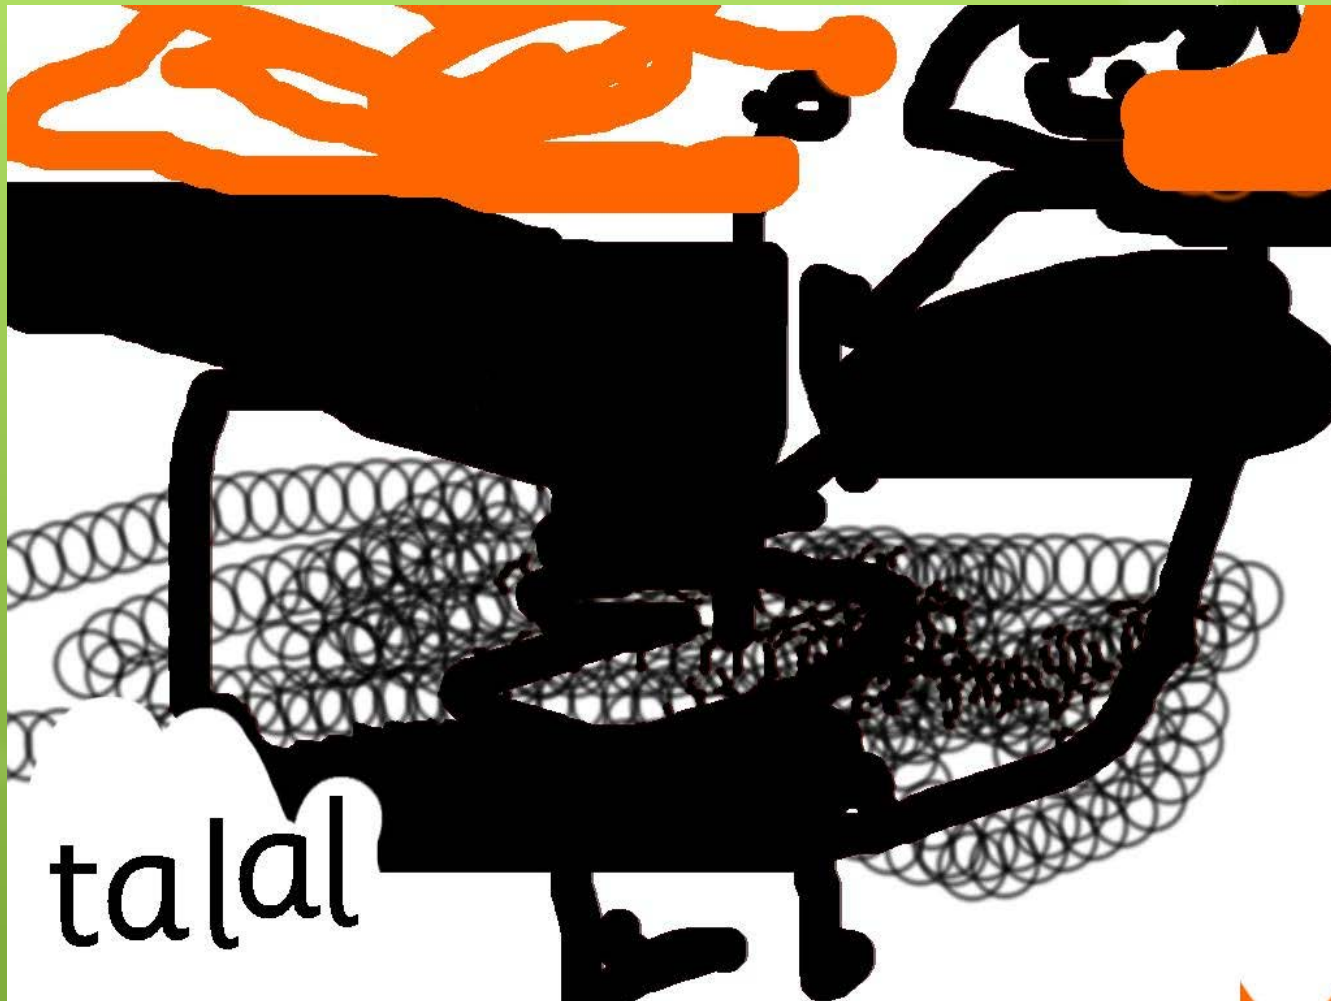

Next, Rainilocks tried the red bowl of meat, but it was too spicy. It was full of jalapeños and her tongue felt like it was on fire. She put the icepack on her tongue to cool it, but her tongue got stuck!

l o r e n z o

ks

Meanwhile, Mr. Toucan was worried about Rainilocks, so he flew through the window to check on her. The icepack was stuck to Rainilocks tongue. Quickly, Mr. Toucan used his beak to peck the icepack so the cold inside fell on the floor.

Then she tried the purple bowl of meat. It was just right. She ate it all up. It was excellent.

When she had finished eating, Rainilocks saw some balls in the mommy and daddy tiger's room. She ran to the biggest ball first. She tried to kick it but it was too heavy to move. She hurt her toes. Too bad she didn't have that icepack.

Next she tried the medium sized ball. She tried to bounce it, but it didn't bounce.

Then she tried to throw the small ball, but it worked too fast and broke a window.

t r i s t a n

Rainilocks was tired. She had a full tummy and she had been playing with the three balls. She saw three beds nearby. First she tried the dirt bed. It was not comfortable. She needed a pillow and saw the second bed

She took a log to use as a pillow on the dirt. She tried it but it was too hard and could give her splinters. Rainilocks saw the rock bed. It gave her an idea. She put the dirt in the middle and the rocks on the sides. She walked to the front of the rocks and fell asleep on the dirt.

The three tigers came home and unlocked the door. The father tiger said, "Who ate one tiny piece of my meat?" The mother tiger said, "Who ate some of my meat?" The baby tiger said, "Who ate all of my meat? ROAAAR!"

Then the father tiger said, "Who played with my ball? It was moved" The mother tiger said, "Someone's been playing with my ball. It's broken." The baby tiger said, "Who was playing with my ball? It is gone and the window is broken. ROAAAR!"

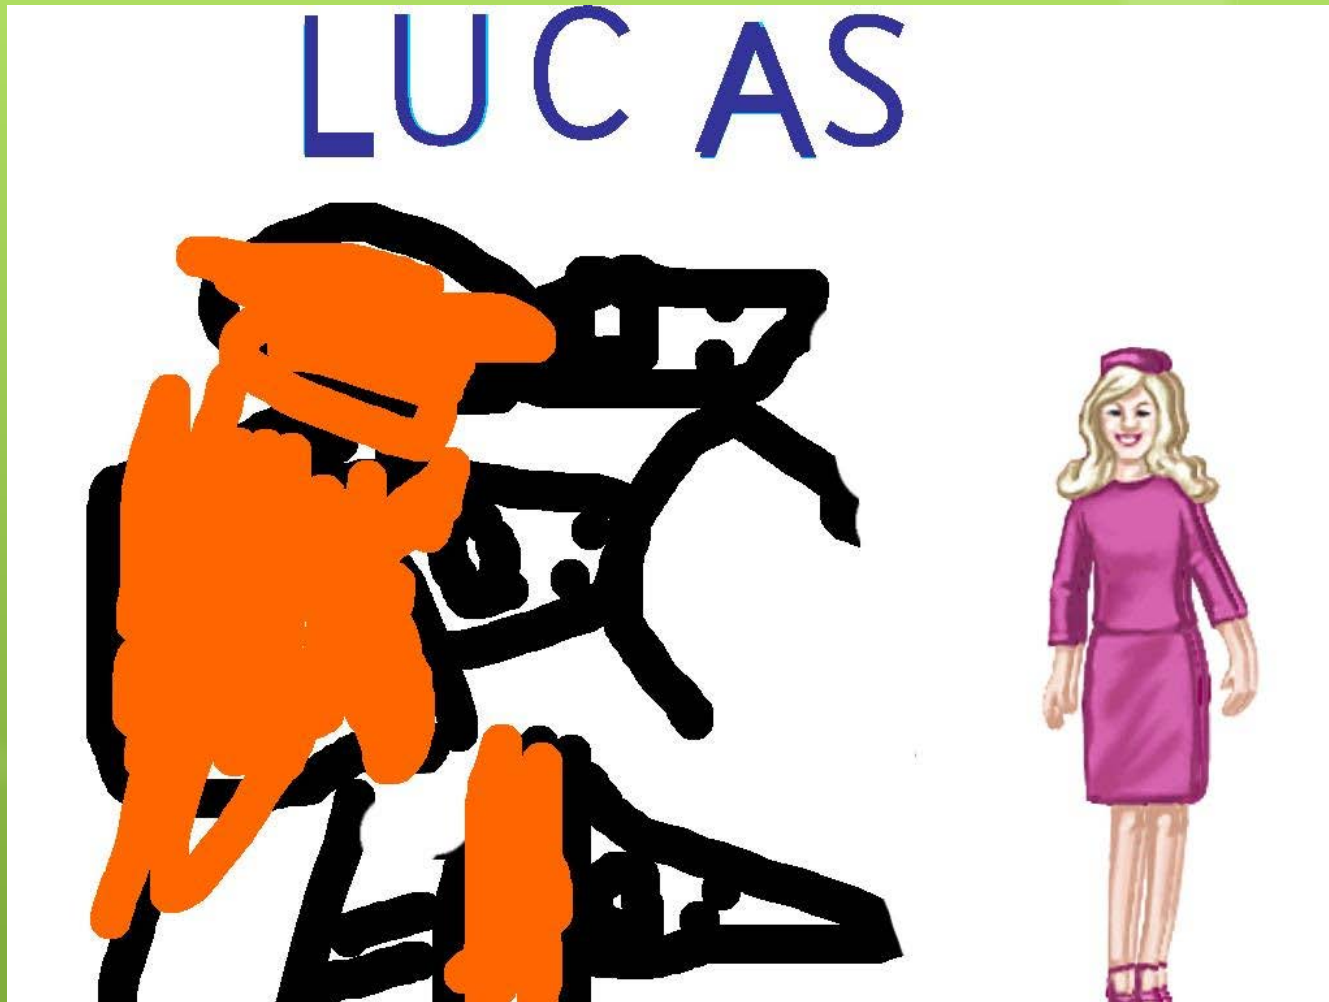

Then the three tigers saw their beds. They had all been mixed together. They saw a girl sleeping on the bed. They did not know who she was.

Mr. Toucan flew into the room and made a loud noise. "CAW!" to wake Rainilocks up. She screamed and then got up and ran out of the house.

The three tigers roared at her to never come back to their house again. THE END.

McKinley School

2014