

Tens Go Fish

Players: 2-4

Time needed to play: 15 minutes

Materials needed: Playing cards

Object of the game: To make combinations to 10

How To Play:

- Remove the face cards and tens from the deck of cards
- Deal five cards to each player. Players do not show each other their cards. Place the rest of the deck face down.
- If you have any pairs of cards that total 10, put them down in front of you. Then replace them by drawing cards from the deck.
- Take turns. On your turn, ask one other player for a card that will make 10 with a card in your hand. If you get what you want, put that pair down. Whether or not you make a pair that totals 10, draw a card. If the card you draw makes a pair, put that pair down and draw again. When you can't make another 10, your turn is over.
- Anytime you use up all the cards in your hand, draw 2 cards.
- The game is over when there are no more cards. The player with the most pairs that add to 10 wins.
