

Revolutionary War websites

<http://kids.usa.gov/history/wars/index.shtml#revolution>

You'll find 4 web sites about how the Revolutionary War got started here. The sites are from the Smithsonian Museum and the Library of Congress.

<http://www2.lhric.org/pocantico/revolution/revolution.htm>

American History brought to you by students in an elementary school in New York State.

<http://www.pbs.org/ktca/liberty/chronicle.html>

A series of programs on the Revolutionary War by a Public Broadcasting station.

<http://theamericanrevolution.org/default.aspx>

This is a comprehensive website, including Revolutionary War battles, commanders, and documents, begun by someone who loves history. It does have advertisements.

Other sites:

<http://www.ushistory.org/march/>

<http://www.americanrevolution.org/home.html>

http://fairfieldschools.org/schools/dwt/library_links/grade-4-winter-links/